Advice to Negroes.

Col. Roosevelt received in his car today a delegation of negroes, headed by J. J Scott, a banker of Memphis, and gave to them a message to the national convention of Odd Fellows of their race, to be held at Baltimore. Negroes from Memphis, New Orleans, Mobile and Birmingham rode in a car that for part of the run today was attached to the same train on which Col. Roosevelt was riding. The colonel asked them to take to the convention a message to the effect that he was in sympathy with organizations of negroes such as the one of which they are members. He said that they must do everything to lift the negro to a higher plane and to help him increase his self-respect.

Although there were no intimations that the officers feared trouble, the pumps, according to survivors, were working for hours before the sinking:

Cause of Loss of Life. It was declared most, if not all, of the loss of life was due to the fact that the officers overestimated the time the ferry could remain affoat. There were enough lifeboats and rafts aboard to have carried double, the number of persons who were on the vessel.

That the wreck was not due to a storm, to overloading or to a breakdown in the vessel's machinery and that the real cause will never be fully determined, is the conclusion of General Supt. W. D. Trump of the Pere Marquette railroad.

The survivors say Capt. Kilty stuck bravely to his post to the end, trying to save others, regardless of his own
